Oxford County Agricultural Fair

Postponed Two Days Because of Storm

Show Began Thursday in Pouring Rain and Will Continue until Saturday night.

Cattle of Fine Quality at the Fair

Where Fair People Met Between Showers

RAIN DELAYED FAIR OPENING

Deep gloom with rain, drizzle and fog brought in by a east and south wind prevailed from Monday evening, causing the fair to be set over until Thursday morning. Fourteen years ago a similar event broke up the combination and since that time the weather man has been a real friend to the Oxford County Agricultural Society. This year the long run of congenial weather came to an abrupt end.

The gates opened on the 77th annual exhibition with lowering skies and almost impassable roads leading from Norway and South Paris to the big show. A soft track eliminated the races and no ball games were started. Rain fell at intervals during the forenoon but the dejected fakirs opened for business and raked off whatever coin was loose. Clearer weather in the afternoon sent the usual first day attendance through the gates and aside from muddy grounds and no track sports, it was not far from the regulation opening day. Harry L. Lowell sold tickets, Thomas Clegg and Elmer Stiles did the collecting. Merritt Welch and Harry Kimball attended the automobile ticket office near the main entrance.

Soft ground sent the pulling matches from the course to a space beyond the fence. A crowd gathered about the place to witness real contests from drivers in for the purses. The matches resulted as follows:

Horses 2400 and Under

Daniel O. Hill, Oxford, 225 ft., 9 in.
A. E. Cox, West Paris, 104 ft., 3 in.
A. W. Howe, Bryant's Pond, 103 ft., 4 inches.

Horses 2600 and Under

S. D. Curtis, West Paris, 146 ft., 11 in.
R. C. Hill, Oxford, 146 ft., 5 in.
A. R. Clark, Bolster's Mills, 92 ft., 5 inches.
Arthur Cox, West Paris, 14 ft., 11 in.

Horses 3000 and Under

John Westleigh, West Bethel, 184 ft., 8 in.
Percy Gammon, Hartford, 165 ft., 3 inches.
Joseph Robinson, Oxford, 157 ft., 7 in.
E. A. Millett & Son, Norway, 79 ft., 2 inches.

Five minutes were allowed each contestant to make a record. In the last contest John Westleigh made his distance with one minute to spare. Arthur Hayes of Oxford was timekeeper, Moses Young of Hartford kept the records. Both handled the measuring tape.

Midway Attractions

The wild man, who ate snakes and kept in subjection with fire arms is known to the profession as "Rooster." What ever his name given at birth might be remains a mystery even to intimate friends.

He started coming here twenty-seven years ago when one year beyond the voting age, and has since appeared in various roles every cattle show date. Many years were spent with prominent circuses and his impersonating the barn yard cock in a clown act fastened on the name "rooster." The chap has a medal for doing big stunts with his vocal organs and can imitate perfectually any animal that creeps, runs or flies. Suddenly changing into a hideous specimen from an African jungle is peaches and cream for this versatile actor. Uncle Sam didn't care whether he was a "rooster" or something less domesticated and placed him in a submarine to shoot a pill into a German hull. He knows every inch of the country from Norway to Tampa Florida.

Fog, rain and mud failed to squelch the attractive features along the highway of music, games and coin getting machinery.

FAIR WEATHER FOR SATURDAY

COUNTY FAIR IN PROCESS

Because of bad, rainy weather the fair could not begin until Thursday morning and at that time it still rained but let up some during the day. There were no horse races pulled off, Thursday or Friday but it is expected the races will be on Saturday. The pulling of horses, oxen and steers is being held. Other departments of the fair are doing well under the conditions.

If the weather is fair Saturday, as is forecasted there will be the biggest crowd in years on the fair grounds.

THE BRAVE BABIES

The babies didn't mind the rain. They were out in force, happy as only good babies know how to be. They and their proud mothers made the one cheerful spot in this awful week of rain. The following is a list of the babies present:

New Manager at Movies

William E. DeCroteau of the Strand Theatre, Lewiston took over the management of the Rex Theatre here and Savoy at South Paris, Thursday. He will also conduct the buiness at Bridgton. All houses are in the big circuit owned by the Maine and New Hampshire Theatre Corporation.

Mr. DeCroteau was born in the business as his parents are members of the theatrical profession and he has followed that line many years over various circuits. He has a wife and two children and contemplates buying a place in Norway for a permanent home at an early date.

Many improvements at the Rex are in mind before the winter season is on, and the new manager will give his whole time toward making the local houses the center of high class amusement featuring the best in filmland.

Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of Oxford Lodge, No. 18, F. and A. M. was held at Masons' Hall Friday evening. The annual reports of the treasurer, secretary and finance committee were read and accepted and the officers for the ensuing year elected as follows:

W. M.—Frank J. Cook.
S. W.—Arthur W. Easton.
J. W.—Donald B. Partridge.
Treas.—Stuart W. Goodwin.
Sec.—Raymond H. Eastman.
Charity Com.—S. W. Goodwin, F. J. Cook and R. H. Eastman.

Represents State of Maine

Mrs. Will F. Young of Crockett's Ridge Norway, represents this state at the Eastern Dairy Show at Springfield, Mass. She has made two trays of butter that does credit to her skill as a butter maker and to the state.

Dr. A. W. Winch of Portland, who has been in France for sixteen months has returned and located in Norway. Dr. Winch is a practicing medical physician and an osteopath and is located in the Beck rent over the postoffice.

Albert Hobbs and William H. Leavitt of Portland came up by auto Friday evening and returned after the Masonic meeting.

Ernest B. Jackson has had a new 16 foot Sheerer oak counter put in his market. The counter contains glass framed show cases on the front side, and in the back side are large draws. A large plate glass 8 ft. long covers to upper end of counter.

William H. Fellows of Westbrook was in town Sunday assisting his father, E H. Fellows, assemble the ocean wave and ferris wheel at the fair grounds.

Harold T. Thayer for nearly two years foreman of the Bristol, (N. H.) enterprise, closed his labors there and took a similar position at Manchester with the John B. Clark Co., Tuesday, Sept. 2d. Mr. T's family will remain in Bristol for a while.

Edwin W. Dyer has returned from a trip over Burnham & Morrill Co. circuit painting smoke stacks at the twenty-two canneries and factories operated by the Company.

The Veranda Club met with Grace Burgess and father by special invitation Thursday, Aug. 28, for the afternoon and evening with a picnic supper which all enjoyed very much. It was voted to hold the next meeting with Mrs. Martha Miller at her home in Sabattus for an all day meeting Saturday, Sept. 6. Eleven members went by auto and spent a most enjoyable day. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Rose Banks, Thursday evening, Sept. 25.

Mrs. Maude Moffatt and son Kenmure of Dorchester, Mass., are spending two weeks with Emma J. Smith at Tanglewood Cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer A. Packard are moving to Auburn. Mr. Packard is employed at the Dingley & Foss Factory, vacated by the Packards.

Arthur C. Parker and family and Mrs. Ella M. Brown have moved to Crystal, N. H., where Mr. Parker has employment with the Paris Mfg. Co.

Mrs. Seldon Blair of Bridgewater, Mass., has been here visiting her mother, Mrs. Ellsworth Meader, Brown street. Mrs. Blair will be remembered as Lucy Meader, who resided in Norway several years while employed in the B. F. Spinney Co. stitching room.

George Booth of Portland attended the fair Wednesday. He is employed with a steel crew on the Boston & Maine Railroad.

Albert P. Blaisdell and son Percy of Rockland have been calling on friends here this week. Mr. Blaisdell will be remembered as working several years for J. O. Crooker of this town prior to 1896. This is his first visit here in 12 years. He is in business for himself under the firm name of the Rockland Hardware Co. They have two stores and are doing a flourishing business.

Alice Barden will be the soloist at the Universalist Church, Sunday.

R. E. Verrill of North Livermore is spending the week with relatives in town.

Arthur Stowell of Yarmouth attended the fair Thursday while on a business trip to Hanover. He has been employed in the government stock yards at Yarmouth under Patrick Ward, who is well known in this part of the state.

The most disappointed ones this week are the baseball fans who banked on seeing a real hot contest between Norway and West Paris during the fair. A fine schedule had been arranged by Percy H. Nevers for the society with Buckfield and Oxford included in the round up. A double header will be played if weather permits. With sun shining, in two hours the field will come out in fine shape.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Whitman, while visiting Mrs. Whitman's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Cash at Portsmouth, N. H. had a narrow escape from serious injury. They had been on a trip to Hampton Beach in their car, with Mr. and Mrs. Cash and on their way home, when making the curve, known as "Dead Man's Curve," they had turned-ed out to the ditch for passing cars, when a large Buick limousine in attempting to pass another car swung into them and put their car completely out of commission, but luckily they all escaped with only a bad shaking up, with the exception of Mr. Cash, who had one bone in his hand broken. The owner of the car, who was riding in a Cadillac behind the Buick which was driven by a friend, came to the rescue, and a satisfactory settlement was made and a new car will replace the smashed one.

COURT DECISION DESIRED

A move is being made to take the N. & P. Street Railway controversy to the courts for a decision. It seems manifestly unfair for the community to go without transportation between the two villages simply to permit the Oxford Light Company to declare a larger dividend. This is about the size of the decision of the Public Utility Commission. Maybe the court will uphold it, but if so the principal involved will lead to no end of trouble as it is special privilege unjust and not fair.

Norway Girl and War Brides

Ruth Bean of Norway, is in Y. W. C. A. work at Brest caring for and assisting the hundreds of French brides of American soldiers, who have been embarking for their new homes in the United States. Miss Bean is one of the secretaries. She does not know when she will return to America but probably not for a number of months. From a letter is gleaned: The Y. W. C. A. maintains a camp at Brest exclusively for war brides. This camp has been in operation since the first of May and in August, alone, up to the middle of the month had entertained and housed 515 wives and 50 children. It was originally built for a regiment of engineers and is well equipped with barracks which have been remodeled to serve as dormitories, reception bureau, mess hall offices, infirmary, nursery and quarters for the staff of 13 Y. W. workers in charge.

The last transport to leave Brest late in August carried among other passengers 58 war brides and one infant, their destinations being points from Maine to New Mexico. While most of the brides are French some of them are Russian, English and from Luxembourg.

The U. S. government transports all war brides to their shores first class and free of charge, and it is arranged that they may sail with their husbands whenever it is possible. Each group of brides has a chaperone, who sees them safely to New York where they are met at the piers and taken to Y. W. Hostess houses and cared for until their husbands are demobilized.

Mrs. H. Price Webber

Word was received Monday of the sudden death at 1 o'clock that morning at Parrsboro, N. S., of Mrs. H. Price Webber of Augusta, wife of the veteran actor, death being due to heart failure.

The remains were brought to Augusta for burial.

Mrs. Webber's stage name was Edwina Grey. She was married to Mr. Webber in 1873, and the two and their Company, the Boston Comedy Co., had played many times in Norway and throughout Maine and largely through the Canadian Provinces. She was the leading woman and noted as "Fanchon the Cricket."

Special Town Meeting

At a special town meeting held at Norway Opera House, Saturday afternoon, $3200 was raised to supplement the amounts appropriated for the same purposes at the annual March meeting. Geo. A. Brooks was moderator. The appropriation was divided as follows, common schools $1800; high schools $1250; insurance, etc., $150. Treasurer was authorized to borrow and the amounts will be placed in the 1920 assessment.

Hadley H. Kuhn, cashier of Medomak National Bank of Waldoboro, wife and two children, motored from Waldoboro to A. A. Towne's farm in Yagger Neighborhood, Sunday, to make a visit to their former teacher, A. A. Towne of the Waldoboro High School. Mr. and Mrs. Kuhn returned to Waldoboro, Sunday evening.

Maurice Bartlett of Ashland and Georgia Applebee of Lee are spending fair week at A. A. Towne's.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Wilson of Concord Junction, Mass., are guests this week at Mrs. Elizabeth Andrews'. After their visit here they will visit Mr. Wilson's old home in Bangor.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dyer of Biddeford were in town Wednesday to attend the fair and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dyer, Fair street.

Hon. J. P. Deering of Saco was in town Wednesday meeting the citizens and getting acquainted with the people. Judge Deering expects to enter the contest on the republican ticket for governor and so far as can be learned is the first candidate in the field.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stimson of Conway are visiting Mr. Stimson's parents, Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. Harry O. Stimson. This is their annual visit here as they never fail to make Norway their headquarters during the fair.

Martin Stowell of Portland, formerly of Bethel, is here attending the cattle show.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Arthur Lewis and family have been entertaining E. U. Kenneally, District Fire Chief, and his wife of Lynn, Mass., who have been camping at Pine Camp, Oxford. They were members of a party from Lynn which included Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Robinson, William Robinson and Ella Larson. Lake Pennesseewassee will be their objective if they camp in this vicinity next season.

Fay Keazer and Delia Whipple of Colebrook, N. H., came to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Leavitt's on the early train Wednesday morning to attend the fair. There was no fair that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cox visited Mrs. Cox's sister, Mrs. John F. Horne at Portland, Monday and attended Mr. Cox's 32nd Maine Regiment reunion at Old Orchard, Tuesday.

Mrs. George Elliott and son George who are boarding this summer at the Centennial Spring House, Sabbath Day Lake visited friends in town this week. They formerly lived in the G. L. Curtis house.

The engagement of Roland S. Nevers and Mildred Morgan, has been announced and in honor of the event, Miss Morgan was given a surprise shower by the members of the packing room and box making department of the Carroll-Jellerson Shoe Co. Friday night, as she closed her labors there at that time. Charles S. Akers of the shipping department made the presentation speech, and in behalf of the other employes presented her with a beautiful reed chair and a fine rug. The wedding will be an event of the early fall, and the young people are fitting up a home in the Merritt Welch house on Main street.

Curtis McPhee has accepted a position on the faculty at the University of Maine.

The Jolly Gentlemen Glee Club have reorganized and rehearsals are in order. During the summer there have been three new members added as follows, P. C. Roberts, J. Harlan Abbott and Lewis Woodworth. Glenn Ross has been elected president of the club to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Donald C. Brooks. Morton V. Bolster has been elected vice president to take the place of Glenn Ross. Albert Rogers and Donald C. Brooks have resigned to attend college.

South Paris will be represented in the various colleges this fall. Gustave Porter and Murray Bigelow will enter the University of Pennsylvania. Burton K. Clifford, Frank McGinley and Annie McPhee will enter Bates. Donald Brooks and Earle Dunham will go to the University of Maine. Clarence K. Winslow will enter Boston University. Arthur G. Dow and Harlan Dennison return to Maine; Willard Curtis to Colby; Albert F. Rogers to Bowdoin; Mary Clifford to Bates; Richard Millett to Boston University.

Mrs. Fred H. Corbett and two sons, aged respectively thirteen and eleven years, picked this season, 1,727 quarts of blueberries, averaging during the best picking about two bushels a day. They live on the Kate Maxim farm, near Streaked Mountain, right in the blueberry belt and make a record worthy of at least a passing notice. A tidy sum must have been received with berries retailing close to twenty cents per basket.

Nelson Haskell, aged eight, and Eleanor Haskell, aged six, children of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Haskell, observed their birthdays with a party, Thursday afternoon, Sept. 4. Ten guests played games on the lawn and refreshments were served in the dining room. The decorations were in pink and green. Those who attended were Musa Taylor, Miriam Wheeler, Kathryn Greene, Barbara Swan, Reta Shaw, Greta Merrill, Gordon Stewart, Albert Morse, Ruth Morse and Stella Mills.

Hamlin Lodge, Knights of Pythias worked the rank of Esquire at their regular meeting Friday evening. After the work there was a rehearsal of the third rank team.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Chandler of Bethel are the guests of their son W. S. Chandler and family, during fair week.

Robert Gray of Boston has been spending several days at Hotel Andrews.

A THOROUGH TEST

One To Convince the Most Skeptical Norway Reader.

The test of time is the test that counts. Doan's Kidney Pills have made their reputation by effective action.

The following case is typical.

Testimony like this cannot be ignored,

Wm. O. Needham, retired farmer, Main St., Norway, says: "At different times when I have taken cold, my kidneys have become affected. Several years ago when I felt that my kidneys needed attention, I got Doan's Kidney Pills from F. P. Stone's drug store. They strengthened my kidneys, ridding my system of the excess uric acid and in a short time I felt much better."

The above statement was given July 24, 1908 and on June 6, 1916, Mr. Needham said: "I still gladly endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. My confidence in them is as strong as ever. I occasionally use Doan's when I feel in need of them and always get fine results.

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Needham had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

OTISFIELD

Margaret F. Hamlin

The death of Margaret F. Hamlin occurred at the home of her daughter, Blanche Stone East Poland, Sunday, Aug. 31 at the age of 74 years. She was born in Harrison Feb. 5, 1845, daughter of James Gardner and Brittania Warren. She was married to Rufus K. Hamlin, Aug. 24, 1864 and has lived in Otisfield nearly all her life. She was a member of the Methodist Church at Bolster's Mills for over 30 years.

She is survived by six sons, three daughters, twenty-one grandchildren, four great grandchildren, one brother and one sister. Rev. R. J. Bruce of Portland spoke words of praise of the beautiful life that has passed away. Interment at Riverside Cemetery at Bolster's Mills. Flowers were many and beautiful.

Nellie F. Stone of Malden, Mass., who has been visiting her brother, Cyrus Stone, the past few weeks, returned home last week.

Nettie Mayberry of Malden, Mass., has visited relatives and friends in Otisfield and Harrison the past few days.

Mrs. Salome Dingley was ninety-eight years old the 2nd of September. She is very well for a lady of her age. She gets around the house with her cane and seems to enjoy life as much as lots of young people.

School commenced in Swampville, Sept. 8, taught by Gertrude Kneeland of East Otisfield.

George Hoyt and wife and Mrs. Eugene Edwards went to Bridgton, Monday.

Mrs. Jason Little is working in the corn shop for George Jillson.

Mrs. Etta Warren and daughter, Lubell, are visiting relatives in Windham.

Rev. A. W. Swift and family will return from their vacation Saturday the 13th and he will occupy his pulpits at Otisfield and Casco, Sunday, the 14th. The service at Otisfield will be held at 10:30 in the morning instead of afternoon and will continue that way throughout the winter, subject, "Eternal Hope in Christ." At 2 p. m., the service will be held at Casco, subject, "Those Who Will Meet Christ at His Coming." The Christian Endeavor Society meets at Casco every Tuesday and at Otisfield every Friday.

EAST OTISFIELD

Mrs. Jessie Losier is stopping with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thurlow for a few days. Amy went to Bridgton, Friday, where she has a position in the high school as teacher of languages. Auriette will board with her and attend the grammar school. George Losier went to Hebron to attend school.

Schools in town began Sept. 8.

Sunday, in the absence of our pastor, Rev. G. E. Kneeland, his wife supplied the pulpit in a very able manner, also the evening prayer meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Greenleaf had a few callers Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Cole and son, Philip of Casco, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Greenleaf, Florence Greenleaf, Richmond, and Linwood Vasmus of Auburn, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Atwood and Mrs. Martha Lowe of West Minot and brother, Lorenzo Atwood of West Somerville, Mass.

BRYANT'S POND

Mrs. A. C. Jackson visited friends in Portland, recently.

Miss L. B. Treadwell returned last week after spending four weeks very pleasantly with friends and relatives in South Portland and in several other towns.

Malcolm C. Clark of South Portland is visiting his aunt, Miss L. B. Treadwell.

The grammar school began Monday with Grace A. Graves, teacher.

Mrs. Elsie Cole is teaching the primary school. The high school will begin Monday if they secure the assistant teachers.

Mrs. Emily J. Felt returned from Rumford, Saturday night after spending two weeks there and in Bemis with Mrs. George Abbott.

Archie D. Felt has been in Aroostook since Aug. 15 with an orchestra playing at the fairs and other entertainments and is seeing something of Aroostook county.

Mrs. Anna Billings has come home from Oxford, where she has spent two months with her daughter, Mrs. George Brown.

Birthday Surprise Party

About seventy-five friends of Lydia Ross gave her a surprise party on her 19th birthday, Thursday evening. The party was given in the town hall and the guests were all gathered when Miss Ross arrived. She was accompanied by Isabelle England and Merritt Harris of Minot Corner, who made some excuse for going to the hall "for a minute." It was quite a few moments before Miss Ross realized what it was all about, but when everybody joined in saying, "Best wishes for a happy birthday, Miss Ross" the secret was then out.

Miss Ross was conducted to the center of the hall where Mrs. Leroy Titus presented her with a gold watch, fountain pen, and a large box of candy from her friends present.

Next came the birthday cake, this being made by Mrs. Leroy Titus. There were nineteen candles and cut flowers on it. The hall was prettily decorated with flowers.

Refreshments were served by Hattie Davee, Gertrude Perham, Miss Muller and Christine Willard. The evening was made merry in a social way and with music and games. The guests from out of town were Mrs. Harlan Andrews, Zadee Walker of West Paris, Mrs. Berryman and Mabel Berryman of Portland, and Merritt I Harris of Minot Corner.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

SOUTH WATERFORD

Bear Mt. Grange

Bear Mountain Grange No. 62 met in regular session Saturday evening, Sept. 6, the rain having prevented the meeting on the regular night, Aug. 30th. The entertainment consisted of readings given by sisters, Abbott and Pike and discussion of the subjects; "What can a farm woman do to increase their income?" Opened by sister Ella Hamlin and "What is the most economical way to feed a horse team?" opened by G. L. Hilton. These questions were generally discussed.

The general topic for discussion at the next meeting is Farm Accounts taken up in three divisions: Home Budget and Farm Book Keeping. Economy in spending the family income. Does it pay to buy in a wholesale way. The committee on program are Arthur and Jennie Sanderson and Maude Sanborn.

After the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed in the dining-room over pastry and hot coffee. The next meeting will be on Saturday evening, Sept. 13th.

WILSON'S MILLS

Hazel Coffin, who has been assisting in the work at the Aziscoos House through the summer, has gone to her home at Bryant's Pond.

Elwyn Storey motored to Bethel, Monday, returning the same day.

Through the middle of the week the fair at Colebrook called into requisition all of the spare autos for the use of the sporting fraternity, who attended from here.

Harry Hart has been on the sick list with a case of ptomaine poisoning. He went to Berlin for treatment.

The Thurstons are preparing to log above here. Vashaw and Haley have already commenced operations on their respective jobs in the woods.

Blanche Hart has gone to Camp Caribou to work.

Arthur Hart is helping A. W. Bennett with the fall work.

Every available man in town has gone to Camp Caribou as guides for various members of the Parmacheenee Club.

WEST LOVELL

W. S. Fox and wife, Geo. H. Fox and Lillian Lord were in Limerick last week.

Mrs. Orlando Allard

The funeral of Mrs. Orlando Allard was held at her late home on Friday, Sept. 5th, conducted by Undertaker Hall of Fryeburg. Mrs. Allard had only been sick a week with heart trouble. A trained nurse was summoned from Portland and arrived a few minutes before her death.

A profusion of flowers gave a silent testimony of sympathy of her friends and relatives. Her age was 46 years. She leaves a daughter just entering her teens, a husband, one brother and one sister to mourn their loss.

Rev. Mr. Willard of the Christian church, Center Lovell, was officiating clergyman. Interment at No. 4 cemetery, Lovell.

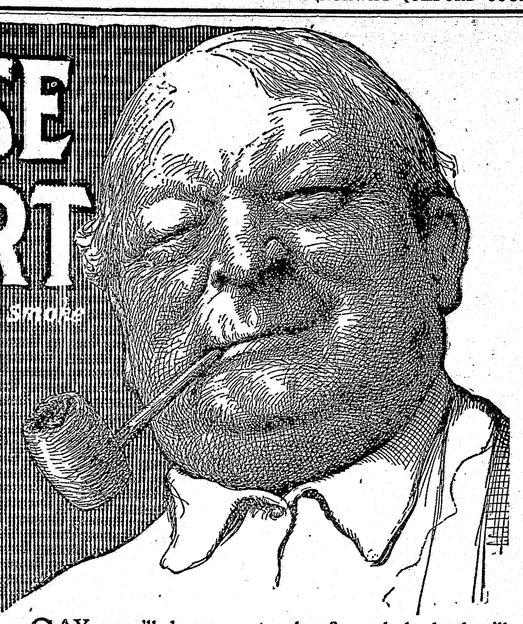
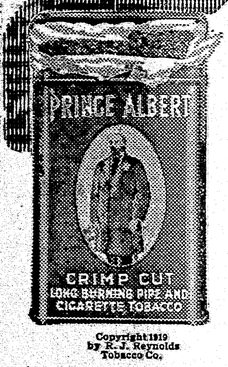
PRINCE ALBERT
the national joy smoke


SAY, you'll have a streak of smokeluck that'll put pep-in-your-smokemotor, all right, if you'll ring-in with a jimmy pipe or cigarette papers and nail some Prince Albert for packing!



Just between ourselves, you never will wise-up to high-spot-smoke-joy until you can call a pipe by its first name, then, to hit the peak-of-pleasure you land square on that two-fisted-man-tobacco, Prince Albert!
Well, sir, you'll be so all-fired happy you'll want to get a photograph of yourself breezing up the pike with your smokethrottle wide open! Talk about smoke-sport!
Quality makes Prince Albert so appealing all along the smoke line. Men who never before could smoke a pipe and men who've smoked pipes for years all testify to the delight it hands out! P. A. can't bite or parch! Both are cut out by our exclusive patented process!
Right now while the going's good you get out your old jimmy pipe or the papers and land on some P. A. for what ails your particular smokeappetite!

OXFORD

Andrew Sockalexis

Andrew Sockalexis, the famous Indian runner, died at West Oxford, Thursday August 28, aged 28 years. The cause of death was tubercular meningitis, from which he had been suffering since 1913. Sockalexis was born in Oldtown, and has competed in many of the important long-distance running events of the country, including the Boston Marathon. He ran in the Olympic games in Stockholm in 1912.

HALLS IN AGRICULTURAL BUILDING

Like wine each year the displays grow better. The addition gave more room just where it was needed. The space was all utilized—full to overflowing.

Mrs. W. H. Kilgore, Norway Lake, had a large collection of cut flowers. There was a harp of pink asters, a "Liberty Bell" of white everlasting with lettering of red and blue flowers, a crescent of white asters, a basket, pillow, wreath and ball for set pieces, besides varieties of cut flowers.

The Portland Evening Express and Sunday Telegram find it pays to come to the fair each year to advertise their most excellent papers and get acquainted with Oxford Co. people. They had a piano to attract the crowd.

The famous Mount Madison Spring beverages of Gorham, N. H., with their well arranged bar of temperate drinks were among the well patronized.

Longley & Butts of Norway, hardware men, showed their white bath room with its hundred and one accessories. This especially emphasized their plumbing. This firm had in another space a large collection of Clarion stoves, both of cooking and heating and the Florence oil stoves and oil heaters.

This is the first year the Paris Manufacturing Company of South Paris have had space in the hall to show a few of the vast output from their large factory. They had two exhibits in different parts of the hall: sleds, toboggans, wagons, wheelbarrows, chairs, tables, desks, swing chairs, baby's sleighs, each in several styles. This is one of the large plants of U. S. A. and an honor to Oxford County.

U. S. G. Abbott and wife, master and Ceres of Norway Grange, were in general charge of Norway Grange. Mrs. Gladys Greenleaf had charge of the decorating. They were ably assisted by chosen committees. The background for the display was white with the beautiful green of growing oats, the red of crab apples and traces of corn.

The cases of butterflies and birds were by B. C. Hamilton. An ancient mulberry platter spoke of good dinners. A case of butter told of excellent butter makers. The stair of jellies was dainty. The vegetables, fruit and flowers were high class and the quilts and rugs were artistic. There was fancy work aplenty. The grapes and apples were more plentiful than usual. Seventy-five cans of different varieties of canned goods.

A bunch of alfalfa with its blue blossoms raised here was much discussed. This was in about the right condition for harvesting, and it is said two or three crops may be raised from the same ground in a season.

A little humor was created by the squash that had been transformed into "a new kind of bug pest." It looked fierce and able to hold its ground with the ablest agriculturalist or entomologist.

A. M. Dunham contributed a walrus skull, Levi Richardson a freak stalk of corn with narrow leaves and a cluster of small ears on top where the tassel should have been. The most valuable thing was a hen's nest filled with eggs. The fireplace with flaming red flowers for leaping flames was surrounded by antiques including the highly polished brass candle sticks.

Frederick Robie Grange of Otisfield Gore was done in white with corn color draping and golden rod and grain and grasses effectively placed. Lawrence Rowe, master of the grange, May Witham, Hattie E. Rowe and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stearns had charge of placing the display. The framed fishbone flowers, the Mexican work, gas mask and helmet were noticed. The potatoes were smooth, large and symetrical and the canned fruit clear and nice. There were many plates of apples and fruit, hops and strings of dried apple. The fancy work was finely done. The roast chicken in the cooked food case was finished to a turn, and the butter and cheese had just the right look. Enormous pumpkins attested to the richness of the soil.

Paris Grange showed decorations of sprays of oats, the red berries of the black alder, chestnut burrs and leaves with grains and grasses. W. C. Thayer, master was chairman of general exhibit; A. N. Cairns, fruit; Ellsworth Thayer, vegetables; Jessie Thayer, canned goods; Esther Cairns, dairy products; Lottie Gates, food; Myrtle Gates, fancy work. The apples and fruit were great. Some of the apples were picked by the stem so as not to disturb the velvet. The jellies were attractive in the several shaped glasses. The canned fruits were placed in regard to color, a red then white or green, and in the central diamond an overturned basket of fruit. The dishes of the Everbearing strawberries were a reminder of springtime.

Hebron Grange had cedar and crab apples over white. Marshall Keene, master, Mrs. Geraldine King, Hannah Blondella and Merton Stone were the laborers in charge. Rolls, yarn and knit goods and the reel of our grandmothers were given the place of honor. There was a case of cooked food of kinds that make good eating and the vegetables that place Hebron well forward in the vegetable class. On a twin squash we read grown into the skin, "What God has joined together let not man put assunder." There was other lettering on other squashes, but not quite so pat.

C. W. Cummings had peanuts grown in Hebron. They were planted in May, were on the tops and well matured. The tops were about a foot high and the leaves were thrifty. The plant has a beautiful yellow blossom earlier in the season. Mr. Cummings raised about a bushel of peanuts and thinks they might be cultivated in this climate.

F. A. Thayer of South Paris made a specialty this year of the "Kitchen Maid," the smooth service round corner kitchen cabinet. It is made in golden oak and white enamel.

The Park & Pollard Co., Boston, sole manufacturers of Lay or Bust, GoTult and Stevens "44" for poultry, hogs and dairy were busy in spreading good tidings.

Freeland Howe's Music Store, Norway, called attention to Victors, Victrolas and Victor records, Columbia records and grafonolas, sheet music and musical merchandise.

The Singer Sewing Machine Co., Norway, Harry P. Bassett, manager, demonstrated the good points of this machine.

The girls' collection of canned goods made many a young man "set up and take notice." It was creditable work.

Mrs. Hannah A. Billings, Norway, 92 years old, had one of the most brilliant colored rugs made in the finest of braids; also Mrs. Mary Greeley of South Paris.

Mrs. Woodbury Russell, Norway had a collection of house plants among which was the most beautiful geranium with a dozen large balls of pink blossoms; also cut flowers, a pillow of pink and megenta dahlias and piece in purple and white asters.

Mattie Richards, South Paris, Jennie E. Baker, Norway, Marjorie Locke Stanton, Norway, were the ladies on the general fancy exhibit. Mrs. E. E. Chase, Bethel had an American eagle of the coin stamp lunch cloth in filet crochet; Mrs. Clara Ryerson, Paris, an elbow sleeve filet crochet yoke; everybody had a raft of filet crochet in all forms and tatting fine and handsome. A tatted yoke by Jennie E. Baker was much admired. Miss Baker had many other pieces.

Iva Allen, South Paris, Mary C. Bernier, Norway, Mrs. Nettie Weeks, South Paris, Mrs. Philip Keene, South Paris had brilliant embroidery in colors. Thyra Dudley of South Paris, a large embroidered circular lunch cloth with crochet edge nearly a foot broad. Gladys E. Rogers, South Paris, an Irish crochet ecru collar. Mrs. Ida Titcomb, South Paris, calico quilt and room set in applique patchwork. Mrs. F. A. Damon, Norway, crochet bed spread, Mrs. Percy Nevers, Norway, tray basket.

Mrs. Lena Andrews, Norway, had a collection of painted china. Mrs. Helen Thomas Pratt, South Paris, six paintings. Ethel Abbott Greenleaf, paintings in water color, oil, crayon and pencil—sixteen or more. Mrs. Lena Andrews, Norway, ten oil paintings. Nellie Andrews, Norway, six water colors. Mrs. A. D. Park, South Paris, eight water colors and one oil. Mattie Richards, a bird dog with pheasant in oil; Mrs. Iva Cummings, South Paris, a horse's head; Mrs. Archie L. Cole, South Paris, yellow roses and a landscape.

In the young people's exhibit Doris Kilgore, Norway Lake, had an embroidered pillow top; Glennor Starbird, South Paris, tatting and embroidery; Grace Mains, embroidery; Thelma Young, Oxford, embroidery. Painting and drawing: Stanley N. Green, South Paris, Gertrude Cushman, South Paris, Susie Bradbury, Norway, Enman Demars, Norway.

The Mason Manufacturing Company, South Paris, displayed a few of the many little people who enjoy dolls and playthings of a similar nature. The little chairs, sleds, wheelbarrows, carts, tables, swings, everything a child needs to carry on the business of childhood. These toys are made for the whole world's boys and girls.

"Gets-It" Peels Your Corns Right Off
Two Drops Will Do It Without Fuss or Trouble. Never Fails.
There's only one way to get rid of a corn, and that is to peel it off as you would a banana skin. There is only one corn remover in all the world that does it that way, and that

There's No Corn "Gets-It" Will Not 'Get.' is "Gets-It." It is because of this fact that "Gets-It" is today the biggest seller among corn-removers on this planet. It means the end of "corn-fiddling." For hard corns, soft corns, very old corns, young corns, corns between the toes and calluses, it means a quick, certain finish. "Gets-It" is applied in 2 or 3 seconds. All you need is 2 or 3 drops. As easy to do as signing your name. It does away forever with tape, plasters, bandages, knives, corn-diggers, scissors, files and blood-bringing razors. Ease your corn-pains, be corn-free at last.
"Gets-It," the only sure, guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, costs but a trifle at any drug store. Mf'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.
Sold in Norway and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by F. P. Stone.

Fat Folks Learn How to Reduce Your Weight
A Simple, Safe, Reliable Way
People who are over-burdened with superfluous fat, know only too well the discomfort and ridicule that over-stout people have to bear.
If you are carrying around 5 or 10 pounds of unhealthy fat, you are unnecessarily weakening your vital organs and are carrying a burden which destroys the beauty of your figure.
There is no need of anyone suffering from superfluous fat. If you want to reduce your weight in a simple, safe and reliable way, without starvation, diet or tiresome exercise, spend as much time as you can in the open air, breathe deeply and get from any good druggist a box of tasseo; take one tablet after each meal and one before retiring at night.
Weigh yourself once a week so as to know just how fast you are losing weight and don't leave off the treatment or even skip a single dose until you are down to normal.
Tasseo is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, helps digestion and is designed to consume the excessive fatty tissue by increasing the oxygen-carrying power of the blood. Even a few days' treatment should show a noticeable reduction in weight, footsteps become lighter, your work seems easier and lighter and more buoyant feeling takes possession of your whole being.
Every person who suffers from superfluous fat should give this treatment a trial, there is nothing better.

The organ fund at the Congregational church is growing $700 has been collected toward $1,250 needed. Dr. B. F. Bradbury is one of the active members on the organ committee.

Local sports were out in force Saturday might obtaining telegraphic accounts of the International Yacht race off New York. It was learned that the American Defender won over the English Valkyrie by nearly nine minutes.

Minnie A. Plummer arrived in South Paris, Tuesday from Europe where she has been receiving instruction in music for several months.

South Paris Village schools commenced Monday. Sixty pupils are enrolled in the high school. The village contained 383 of the 825 pupils in town at the spring census.

H. G. Fletcher and little son of South Paris while driving across Gothic street railroad crossing barely escaped injury when a "wild engine" barely missed the wagon. This is considered a dangerous grade crossing.

Jailor Chandler Garland checked an attempt of a prisoner to escape from Paris Hill county jail. He found saws and tools with the bars partly cut. A confession implicated the prisioner's wife, whose alleged statements brought into the case several prominent names. The women appeared before Judge Herrick Davis and committed for the October term.

Harry H. Nevers returned this week from Rockland where he played his first season of professional baseball. The papers give Harry credit for Rockland winning the Knox County League championship.

Four ladies gathered at Albion Moody's in East Stoneham whose combined weight registered 851 pounds. Mrs. Susan L. Moody, the hostress weighed 176; Mrs. James Littlefield, Detroit, Mich., 184; Mrs. Carrie S. Plummer, Lynchville 226; Mrs. Lydia Meserve, Westbrook 265.

T. J. Everett, East Otisfield took up a swam of wild bees that yielded 42 lbs. of honey.

J. S. Clapp's pulp mill at Bisco Falls on the Little Androscoggin 3 1-2 miles above South Paris was burned early Monday morning. The mill had been shut down two months for repairs. A large amount of wood was in the yard and the years product sold in advance. Cause unknown. Loss $3000 no insurance.

Alton Perkins, the "hoss" trader and dickerer in any old thing, is hauling slabs into town and incidentally picking up bargains. He has juggled lumber during the summer in Staples' portable mill on the Yeaton lot, and let his side lines rest until fall.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Keyes, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Young and son Hadley of Lynn and Frank C. Higgins of Boston have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Freeland Young.

Timothy L. Heath has been drawn on the grand jury, Oscar N. Cox and Harry W. Kimball as traverse jurors from Norway.

Capt. Mel Sampson has painted his fleet of three launches and four row boats and stored them for the winter. Mel. has reliable dope on matters around the lake and predicts boat fishing in 1920 will begin April 25. The statement is based on an average taken from records covering many years.

Mrs. M. L. Kimball and son Houghton have returned from Ellsworth where they have been the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cook.

The usual crowd of sightseers visited the fair grounds, Sunday. They were on the job from early in the forenoon until late in the evening. Aside from the usual confusion by late arriving fakirs getting placed, there was nothing to cause any uneasiness or complaint. The ban on the sale of the "Uno" had a quieting influence with no indication that "liquid red fire" was being bootlegged.

Norway was well represented at the ball game in West Paris Saturday afternoon. Although the affair was decidedly one sided with everything going in favor of West Paris, the game proved interesting but not exciting. Rain spoiled any chances for speed and clean cut work.

Several departments in the shoe factories were in operation Saturday afternoon to make up as far as possible the days closed during county fair.

G. W. Davis is in town two weeks canvassing for the book, "Americans Defending Democracy," written by soldiers and marines, who have passed through actual experiences at the front. This work is in conjunction with the Federal Board of Vocational Education, and all profits are used to assist disabled soldiers and sailors. General Bell is sponser for the movement.

WILSON'S MILLS

Mrs. A. W. Linnell, who has been seriously ill is now on the gain, a doctor from Colebook, has been her attending physician. Her sister, Mrs. Grace Foley from Bethel has been with her and her sons, Willard and Jesse were called home.

Edith Wilson is visiting her nieces, Ethel and Mildred Wilson at Groveton.

Ira Littlehale has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. E. H. Brooks of Auburn, for the past fortnight.

A party of seven ladies from Randolph have been at the Aziscoos House. They came with an auto, driven by its owner, Annie Hickey of Boston. They visited points of interest as suited their pleasure; up the lake in one of the motor boats, climbed Aziscoos mountain and visited the Diamond farm, Dermont Fox guide.

Little Eleanor Linnell has been spending a few days with her grand-mother, Mrs. B. N. Storey, before her school begins.

A party of young men from Bethel left their car when they went up the river where it was utilized for joy riding while they were gone, by the sporting class.

Mrs. Zella Hart with her Ford car, took Mrs. Millie Linnell, Dermont Fox and Robert Storey to Berlin, recently, for dental work and shopping.

EAST SUMNER

Last Sunday morning Union Grange attended services at the Congregational church in response to an invitation by Rev. H. W. Collins, who preached a fine sermon from the text "Workers together with God." A quartette composed of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. H. Stetson, Esther and Roger Eastman, led the singing.

Gladys Buck, one of our trained nurses is ill.

Mrs. Luville Buck is at Wilmer Bradeen's for the present, caring for Mrs. Bradeen's daughter.

W. H. and Augusta Eastman have purchased a Burroughs adding machine for their office to be used in insurance and post office work.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Staples invited the going people to their home, Underledge Farm, for a corn roast, Thursday evening. Frank Chadbourne conveyed them in his auto, going four trips for that purpose. The boys of course preferred their bicycles as means of transportation Mr. Staples treated the company to delicious pears, of which their farm produces an abundant supply.

The Buckfield Grange presented the drama "A Regiment of Two" at the Grange Hall Friday evening. A good sized audience received it enthusiastically.

Mrs. Lizzie Perley of Winthrop, visited her sister-in-law, Mrs. George Barrows a few day last week.

Mrs. Lucy Russell fell and hurt her shoulder one day last week. It swelled so badly that her physician advised having it examined by the x-ray, and she was taken to Lewiston for that purpose. A bone was found to be out of place, but there was no fracture.

SOUTH OTISFIELD.

Loren Stearns, wife and baby spent Sunday at Mr. Stearns' in Oxford.

Miss Hopkins from Oxford is working for Mrs. George Jillson.

Mrs. Herbert Noble is working in the corn shop for George Jillson.

Mrs. Esther Jordan has been very sick.

Ida Lord has finished work for Mrs. Thorner at Pleasant Lake camp and has returned home.

Glances About the Hall

Should you wish to read more about "The Halls" you will find it on page 3 fourth column.

The State Extension Department is under the charge of Prof. Geo. A. Yeaton of Norway, and it is under the direct management of Miss Catherine Platts of Orono, who has charge of all the extension work of the boys and girls. She has A. Van Den Kerckhoven as her assistant here and he is an expert in this line of work.

Boys and girls clubs of Oxford County under the direction of the College of Agriculture University of Maine had 360 jars from 36 exhibits of 10 jars each. The Clubs are at Norway, Bethel, Paris, Hebron, Buckfield, Dixfield, Canton, Rumford and Andover. Membership 200 in the canning clubs.

Oxford County Girls and Boys Canning Club prizes:

Grace Van Denkerckhoven, Bethel	$6.00
Gladys Barker, Norway	5.00
John Sweat, Andover	4.50
Elizabeth Bartlett, Andover	4.00
Marjorie Farwell, Bethel	3.50
Margaret Learned, Andover	3.00
Mildred McInnis, West Bethel	2.00
Doris Ordway, West Bethel	2.50
Ada McAlister, South Paris	2.50
Doris Kilgore, Norway	2.00
Hilda Russell, Norway	2.00
Esther Tyler, Bethel	2.00
Myrtle Beckler, Bethel	1.50
Doris Ripley, Andover	1.50
Lydia Swett, South Paris	1.50
Ida Lapham, Norway	1.50
Margaret Hanscom, Bethel	1.00
Marion Skillings, Bethel	1.00
Dorothy Grover, Bethel	1.00
Marjorie Edwards, South Paris	1.00

The Boys' Sweet Club had some of the best filled and just right for the table sweet corn. The following are the prizes awarded.

1st—Charles Colby, South Paris.
2nd—George Colby, South Paris.
3rd—Chester Hamm, Norway.
4th—Warren Knightly, Norway.
5th—Alton J. Thurston, Norway.
6th—Fred S. Noble, Norway.

Wm. J. Wheeler and Co. had in their furnished rooms Poole pianos, Lauter piano, Pease piano player. The good music here is a feature that many enjoyed.

The Express have a quartet of singers and a piano player: C. D. Aims, manager, J. R. Tetford, Fred E. Loque, James D. Parent, Guy M. Esley, quartet, W. Lawrence Mohan, pianist.

Jewelry galore and one could buy precious stones for almost a song and all kinds of gold with or without your name plainly engraved. Much of it was very pretty.

The corn popper and Coon's ice cream joined drives. It was an excellent combination when one ate ice cream one wanted corn and vice versa.

Mrs. C. W. Bowker and Mrs. Howard Shaw of South Paris served home cooked food "the best on the ground." Their food was in great demand.

The man with the Indian goods was in his accustomed corner for the fair. Every body, who follows fairs knows R. P. Skeetop, the sweet grass basket expert. He sells quantities of these articles.

Chief Skeetop is of the Chippaway tribe. He had Indian implements, wampum, scalping knives, tomahawks and beads.

Mrs. Mary Stilman Russo has the Priscilla hair wavers and hair forms. She is well known in Old Orchard and her goods in demand by the ladies. She intends to "follow the Maine fairs this season." With the aid of these little wires skillfully applied one can make a scanty head covering a heavy head of hair.

W. F. Tubbs, Norway, Manufacturer of high grade snow shoes and skis had one of the handsomest and most interesting exhibits from his large factory. This is one of the largest and best known plants of its kind. It will be remembered they furnished a large snow-shoe order for the British army last winter.

Mrs. S. E. Goodspeed, Norway had a collection of carved brass trays, candle sticks, pitcher and cups.

O. M. Cox, Norway, had a collection of twenty-six varieties of grapes.

The water colored paintings credited to Nellie Andrews on page 3 are the handwork of Lena Andrews.

The Primrose cream separator "that handsome blue machine" had a room decorated with blue in its honor. Its workings were exhaustively explained.

Irving Wheeler, South Paris, the lame boy had doll's furniture made by himself. It looked substantial and attractive. Mildred Maxim, South Paris a piano lamp.

Never were seen better vegetables in the seventy-seven years of our fair's life. Mrs. Agnes Fuller Benson, Oxford, had a whole show in her vegetable exhibit from Cliffside Farm, surely there must have been more than one hundred specimens. W. C. Symonds, Norway, had heads of cauliflower that would measure a foot across and of a beautiful creamy white. There were squash two feet in diameter and melons that made the mouth water to look at. A. L. Chaplin Welchville had eight rowed seed corn the ears a foot long growing on ten feet stalks.

John T. Smart, Pittsburg, Penn., exhibited the war Veterans' Journal dedicated to "Our Boys." He was advertising the book "Gold and Blue Stars" forty stories written by wounded soldiers. He will attend Maine fairs.

Home Economics Division Extension Service, College of Agriculture University of Maine had literature on various branches in homemaker's art. A home made cooker and a home made iceless ice box were shown. Here were demonstrated useful ideas of healthful and economical nature.

The apples never looked better even in Oxford County the home of good apples, noted not only for beauty but for the flavor that is unexcelled that has won for them the high praise, "the best apple in the world." Two long tables, four tiered, in hall were filled with the plates, "Seven specimens on a plate," labeled and taged with the name of the exhibitor; also pecks in boxes and "the most attractive boxes of marketable apples" packed with stem side up or with the side of the apple up, or in paper wrappings.

The Mason Manufacturing Co. gave a doll party to illustrate their doll's furniture. The central piece was the doll's table set for lunch with the dolls seated on three cornered curving back chairs that corresponded with the curve of the round table. There were doll's reading, dolls rocking, dolls swinging, dolls seated on the beds, and a darky fellow seated in a high chair.

Mrs. Alice Freelove of Bridgton had her fall millinery. Ladies are glad to look at new styles the first of the season. Mrs. Freelove has sold many a hat at our fairs.

The old reliable Sharples and De Laval separators were exhibited and the good old story again told.

Quilts, spreads and rugs were hung from the high beams and they were of every kind and color. One patchwork, quilt was not only a "rising sun" but added stars of the firmament.

Paris Machine Co., South Paris, showed the Standard Columbia tiled in bath tub, that is a bath tub that fits in the corner and to the floor without a space below and back and at the head of the tub, and The-Siwel Clo, an absolutely noiseless closet; also the Amersal boiler, the Master one-pipe furnace and the Forbes furnace. This Company make a specialty of plumbing and heating.

Superintendent of Hall, C. W. Bowker of South Paris, was a busy man. In fact very little goes on about the halls but what he knows.

Evening Entertainments

Large crowds attended the dances at Norway Opera House during the week under the auspices of the Imperial Singing orchestra, eight members. This musical team was organized recently for a dance business and immediately jumped into the lime light. Their work was just a step in advance of the common run as they featured a male quartet with trained voices along with the regular jazz orchestra. Twenty singing members made up their repertoire with a new program each evening. The imperial quartet included Abe Klain, Ernest Paige, H. W. Brown and Fred Moore. A four piece orchestra rendering a smooth well balanced accompaniment to the singers and a peppery time keeper for the dancers included Harold Moore, violin, Laforrest Conant, saxofone, Harley D. True, drums and bells, Harold A. Anderson, piano.

Dancing Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in the grange hall at South Paris was largely attended. Shaw's Jazz Orchestra furnished music.

"Open Your Eyes," the sensational photoplay prepared under the supervision of the United States Health Service was shown at Savoy Theatre, South Paris, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Feature films were given during the week at the Rex in Norway with "Open Your Eyes" advertised for Friday and Saturday evenings.

Midway Attractions

High strikes for tests of strength, ball and pin games for skill, hooplas and ring throwing outfits lending an element of chance to life were there in force. Girlie shows featuring abbreviated apologies sparkling with spangles and priceless gems, catered to the public with a glory and a nerve surpassing all former appearances. Reptile shows, fortune exponents, wrestling exhibitions, the horrible wild man with his unearthly groans, the handcuff king, and other ideas, new and ancient materialized to catch easy money were here assembled in this mushroom city.

Sam Cohen's attractions were prominent. Last year the Walla-Walla girls in songs and dances came here on their scouting trip, it proved a success. This season Sam brought the Walla-Wallas with cabaret numbers, and a flash which appealed to bald heads and others leaning strongly toward the merry whirl. Cohen's new show here was Lieut. Ralph Miller, the handcuff king, card manipulator and straight jacket expert. Three minutes was his limit to stay in the jacket, frequently he escaped in two minutes or less. The other attraction was Elsie the "woman with a thousand eyes" in Hindoo fortune telling and lectures about the strange "Horned Girl" which according to the spell was an "honest and true girl petrified after inheriting a birthmark, changing the toes into cow horns and growing another stub from the center of the forehead." The gloomy looking "Zeetah" in a den of rattlers, blue runners and other wigglers less fierce made a hit. This strange being handled the serpents as a mother fondles her infant. The pit held eight rattlers each carrying not less than six pairs of buzz makers. Cold, damp weather took away all their fight and they were a sluggish lot. A ballyho introducing the only snake in the world with a gold tooth although inconsistent with natural history, it called the people in close for the line of talk which followed.

Many soft drink and frankfort booths were conducted by local people. After being cut out during the past few years by professional venders, they are coming back into their own once again. Arthur Lapham of Norway sold refreshments behind a counter near Dr. Glover's athletic show. Roy and Lloyd Fletcher also of Norway handled soft drinks and ice cream in two midway bootlis while George Rand and sons were busy in a tent passing out drinks, cigars and frankforts. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shaw of South Paris sold home cooking and lunches, meeting with good success.

A staple article is the merry-go-round, the ferris wheel and circle wave brought each year by E. H. Fellows and incorporated into the Fellows Shows. Sixteen years ago Mr. Fellows and his family made their appearance with one of the best merry-go-rounds placed on the grounds. The show has expanded, grown wonderfully and carries a good name wherever they set up. Everybody expects the outfit each year and they have become a part of the big fair. Owing to a shortage of experienced mechanics, the merry-go-round was not brought here this time, but next season Mr. Fellows expects to introduce one of the best machines on the road and warranted to give a delightful ride under summer park conditions.

The Parisian Girls assisted by the dimunitive comedian, Billy Lizzi of Biddeford added pep to the lower midway. One reason for a paint shortage was demonstrated during their stay. We curtail on sugar and in many ways go easy with material things to stabalize the market. If appearances did not deceive, the beautifully decorated terpsichorean enigmas spread the facial camouflage with a lavish hand, almost to the point of reckless wastefulness while the average property owner goes easy with the pigment. Their entertainment was not a finished product and failed to dig out any alibi for its crudeness.

Fair Ground Notes

High Sheriff, Harry D. Cole was in charge of policing the grounds and watching out for gamblers, who might take a chance. The plain clothes deputies were Ernest F. Shaw, Harry O. Stimson, Herman Billings and Frank Woodsides. Constables Horace Kimball, F. A. Hall and others were on duty during the week, paying attention to parking autos and getting the crowds through the main gate.

Dellas Lee Benson, a texas ranger and cow puncher gave an exhibition on the oval in ffont of the small grand stand, Thursday afternoon. A wild horse was saddled and ridden after a period of soft kid glove handling. This animal was bought in Lewiston early in the summer and came to the Westener not broken to harness or saddle. After a brief course the horse could be driven by reins. The exhibition Thursday was only the third time the wild animal had been ridden.

A suggestion for better roads was made in the form of a good roads exhibit by Charles W. Bowker of South Paris. Various machines for the different phases of road making were shown and they went through a practical demonstration by the use of small tractors.

Dr. Grover's wrestling show featuring Homer Truman, the Oxford County bear was a center of attraction after they opened Thursday afternoon. Several would-be "champions" attempted to throw the big "scissors grinder." A few remained the five minutes limit, but the majority failed to keep up more than half that time. Arthur Payne of Norway was the boy artist ready to meet any aspirant under one hundred and thirty pounds. Charlie Billings of Oxford was matched against several local men including Roland Hussey. After watching the several "wiggle" dances during the week, this athletic contest was a great relief for the crowd. Large attendance was the rule at every contest. "Speiler" Cole well known about the grounds in years past was the grinder out front.

Edward S. Gammon and sons of Norway operated a pin game on lower midway. Being a local outfit it received large patronage through the persuasive words of the operators.

The friends of the late Wm. C. Cole of Norway easily recognized his pictures. They occupy a conspicuous place in the hall and look natural unto life. Both are the work of his son, John D. Cole of Roxbury, Mass., and is very creditable to his ability as an artist. William Cole was marshall at the Oxford County Fair for 20 years or more. One of the pictures shows Mr. Cole on horse back as he looked when marshall about the grounds, the other a life size portrait.

After September 15 there will be no postoffice at North Bethel and all mail will be distributed at the Bethel office.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

Dance in Norway Opera House, Friday evening with music by the Bowdoin Jazz Band was largely patronized both on the floor and in the balcony. The musical organization was considered just right for dancing with abundance of pep.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Swett spent Saturday and Sunday in Auburn, the guests of Mrs. Swett's mother. They were accompanied by Adeline DeCoster who visited relatives and friends in Auburn.

N. D. Winship of Oxford was in town Monday, on business and called at the Advertiser office. Mr. Winship has been a subscriber to the advertiser for twenty years and says he likes it just as well as ever.

Mrs. H. S. Bramham of New Haven, Conn., is spending several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cook and daughter, Pearl. She has enjoyed many fine auto trips to the mountains, Poland Springs and other places during her stay.

Geo. G. Porter of Auburn arrived, Monday and remained through the fair. He left town some five years ago and has passed through many experiences during that time. Eighteen months was spent in the Central Maine General hospital at Lewiston for surgery and nervous prostration after recovery he made shoes in Massachusetts until ill health caused him to retire. At present he is resting and visiting friends.

The Lansdale Reporter of Pennsylvania owned and edited by Sanborn & Temple, has changed its shape. It has been a ten column folio and now it appears as an eight column quarter and thus the lost "blanket sheet" on our exchange list disappears. Walter L. Sanborn, formerly of this town, is the senior member of the firm. The Reporter is a prosperous looking paper and growing more so.

John R. Mitchell and son, Harold L., ensign in the aviation service, was looking over the town, Monday. Mr. Mitchell now lives at South Portland and years ago he lived at South Paris and later on in Norway near the Greenwood line.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Craigin and Mrs. R. J. Bruce of Portland made a short call on friends and relatives in town, Tuesday, the 30th. Sunday Dr. and Mrs. Craigin and their three children and two nieces took dinner with Mrs. Susan Craigin.

Elizabeth Crockett Blake Tent No. 8, D. of V., will hold its meeting Friday evening at K. of P. Hall at 8 o'clock.

County Fair

Up and Down the Fair Grounds

U. S. uniforms worn by ex-soldiers are conspicuous among the show people. Infantry, heavy artillary, aviation and navy brought together from long distances to this ten acre lot explains the shortage of fakirs last year. In common with other professions this fraternity served their country and have an honorable record.

Despite rain and mud many sightseers visited the grounds during the set-over days and patronized the various ball and pin games. Venders were successful with hot frankforts, but the wild men, dancing girls, wrestlers and handcuff kings didn't earn a penny for no openings were made. E. H. Fellows Shows succeeded in getting the circle wave assembled, but left the Ferris wheel half completed until Thursday. Chute, the merry-go-round man had his troubles and his wheel was not going smoothly until Wednesday. The youngsters had a picnic with the free rides during the tryout.

Cold damp weather is fatal to warm climate snakes and the reptile show on the midway suffered accordingly. One spotted beauty gave up this material life early in the week and the lengthy body thrown over the fence into the bog. The heave was an upshort and the reptile found a resting place in a tree top where it dangled several days in a life like pose.

Kid Dionne, the Lewiston wrestler, appeared on the grounds with his athletic show. After looking over the prospects for trade he decided to try Lancaster, N. H., for according to his remarks, "No use bucking Dr. Glover's outfit featuring Homer Truman the Oxford County favorite."

Heinie Blake, a local attracter entertained a crowd one evening with a board breaking act. For a few bits he would split lumber by knocking it on the top of his bald dome. Great fun resulted when a hard pine board was substituted for something easy. It was some tussle.

E. A. Drinkwater of Sabattus, poultry expert and leader of Drinkwater's orchestra attended the fair each day and jumped every afternoon to play at a dance job in the vicinity of his home the same evening. This musician claims to be the first person to introduce singing with a dance orchestra in the state. This happened sixteen years ago after hearing a well known organization in Massachusetts perform the same stunt.

Agricultural Exhibit

W. K. Clifford of South Paris occupied space under the grand stand with various farm implements. Worcester mowing machines, the Farmers Favoriie Fertilizer machine, hay tedders, Curtis' Easy Pull manure spreader, wheel harrows and plows made an interesting farm exhibit.

Cattle Department

Owing to bad weather this department was slow in filling but the quality of the stock is invariable high. Several old frames used for tie-ups had been removed and neat sheds furnished clean quarters and protection. This improvement was appreciated as never before as rain has been an unknown quantity in the past with this fair.

Sunnymead Holstein Farm, Arthur D. Cummings, owner, had fourteen head from his famous herd of registered Holsteins. L. E. McIntire & Son, East Waterford, proprietors of Greenfields Farm, entered a large exhibit of registered Holsteins, headed by the King Lyons Joh, the 3-year-old pure bred bull. Ed. Hobbs, Norway Lake, had eight head of high grade Holsteins. Nat W. Bennett, Norway, was on hand with four head of the same breed.

J. Herbert Carter, Bethel, showed six head of pure bred Durhams. This breed had been raised on his farm at Middle Intervale many years, having been passed down through two or more generations.

C. R. King, South Paris, was there with his well known Jerseys. Fagan & Green, South Paris, were prominent exhibitors of Herefords and had a large herd. Herman Morse, Buckfield entered Ayrshires, there was sixteen head, twelve of which were thorough breds.

Steers and oxen occupied a large space and came from Bethel, Hebron, Paris, Buckfield, Waterford and Norway. Many went into the drawing classes and were a sturdy well kept lot.

Poultry Department

The high price of grain made an impression on the number of exhibits although more than 275 birds were listed. Harry E. Lovejoy, president of the Western Poultry Association had charge of this department. E. A. Drinkwater of Sabattus judged the show.

The Brown Leghorn exhibit was among the largest number of birds considered. Those showing this strain were Gordon Field, South Paris, L. W. Doughty, Norway, W. W. Maxim, South Paris, F. H. Corbett, South Paris, Ralph A. Cooper, Buckfield, Albert M. Richardson, Norway.

Plymouth Rocks were also well represented. Barred Rocks were shown by P. M. Wyman, West Paris, E. C. Wardwell, Oxford, S. E. Goodspeed, Norway, and Florence Small, Norway. Partridge Plymouth Rocks were entered by W. A. Stone, Oxford, and Mrs. Agnes Fuller Benson, South Paris.

Wyandottes made another large showing. The white variety were represented by specimens entered by W. N. Judkins, South Paris, E. L. Greenleaf, Oxford, and Charles Francis, Oxford. Columbian Wyandottes were shown by W. H. Sturtevant, South Paris. Partridge Wyandottes made up Donald H. Bean's display for South Paris. J. B. Field, Norway was the only exhibitor of the Buff variety and this was a clean cut and attractive show.

Rose Comb White Leghorns by F. A. Cooper, South Paris, and T. B. Doughty, Norway, were carefully selected and well displayed.

Single Comb White Orpingtons and Buff Orpingtons were there, the property of Ralph A. Cooper, Buckfield.

Rhode Island Reds occupied a conspicuous place and made one of the most prominent exhibits. Rose Comb Reds were shown by C. Guy Buck, South Paris, E. C. Wardwell, Oxford, and W. N. Judkins, South Paris. The single comb variety were placed by E. C. Wardwell and C. Guy Buck.

Bert Melvin had a pair of White Plymouth Rocks; C. Guy Buck showed Andalusions; Annie D. Greeley brought White Crested Black Polish; Ancona fowls and chicks were shown by C. G. Miller, South Paris; Lakenvelder chicks and fowls by Norman E. Turner, South Paris and Black Minorcas by C. R. Decoster, Norway.

Bantams were plentiful and exhibited by Harold Nevers, Norway, Lester Richardson, Norway and E. P. Crockett, South Paris.

E. P. Crockett's display of Light Brahma fowls and chicks were the only specimens of this variety in the show.

Mrs. Agnes Fuller Benson of South Paris, R. F. D. 2, had a large variety of ducks. Among the number was the White Pekin, Mexicans and White Indian Runner. Hilda Russell of Norway entered a large display including White Pekins, French Decoy and Roumen. Muscovoy ducks were shown by Mrs. Ida Gammon, East Waterford and by O. C. Buck, Norway. A large Rouen drake was exhibited by Rupert Aldrich.

African geese were shown by Mrs. Agnes Fuller Benson and Emden geese by T. B. Doughty.

Sights About the Grounds

Superintendent of Grounds, William J. Wheeler, performed his duties on crutches. The fakirs were very considerate and assigning ground was carried out with no hitch.

Ora Spencer, the candy man occupied the corner lot as in the past twenty odd years. The sugar famine drove him to the molasses product which had a large sale. Mr. Spencer did his bit for Uncle Sam after the fall fairs last year as cook on a transport carrying returning soldiers. "Shorty" Faneuf of local fame assisted about the booth.

Supt. of Hall, Charles W. Bowker did a good stunt for humanity when he had the exhibition hall floors washed and treated with an anti-dust mixture. The first time in years that the place was not a "choke house" during the crowded periods.

The New signs on the exhibition hall and administration building were appreciated by strangers not familiar with the lay-out of the grounds.

Prosperity with a good bunch of spenders about Oxford County was the incentive prompting fakirs and venders to arrive early for desirable locations. In this they were not disappointed as their business went to top notch if they had the material needed.

The Parisian Girls with mirth and song arrived early and jumped into the lime light on the first ball pitched. Nothing can beat snappy advertising and the show was well promoted before a ballyho went on. Dancing was featured to the delight of a large crowd following including bald heads and youth.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Fellows made their sixteenth appearance here with the Circle Wave and Ferris wheel. A help shortage caused them to keep the merry-go-round in storage, but an owner of one was induced to come here and join the Fellows Shows during the fair dates. Next year Mr. Fellows expects to bring the latest thing in riding horses, and the youngsters can have the same fun their city cousins enjoy at any summer park.

Mrs. Elizabeth Edgerly, Mrs. Frank S. Clark and Helen Barnes were in charge of entering articles for exhibition in the hall. William F. Bicknell was the handy man around the main office.

Wild men are not losing prestage as people learn the difference at every fair. It cost more money than ever this year to have a leg pulled on the pit show stuff. The lamented P. T. Barnum didn't fall down with his dope during an eventful career with the public. The same truth applies today even to the saying that a sucker is born every minute, etc.

Night officer, "Lon" Hall says, "Fair nights now are quiet and no trouble to keep everybody satisfied and property safe. Years ago when booze flowed after dark like water, it was two strong men's job to keep order among the rough necks. Most of the trouble however, came from the local toughs who want to show something." Officer Hall went on duty Sunday night and will patrol the grounds until the end.

George Tripp, aged 73 fed the poultry and other wise made himself useful about the exhibit under the grand stand. Harry A. Lovejoy was boss and had everything in good order long before the birds arrived. Although George went to sea at fourteen years and remained on the job more than forty years; he can apply himself to anything as shown by the good care given the birds under his care.

Ammi Mattor climbed the center pole of the merry-go-round to adjust the blocks which had become twisted. This was an athletic stunt for a youngster and attracted the curious.

Mrs. Elmer Twitchell served meals on the same lot in Eating House Square that the Twitchells occupied more than thirty years ago. Many improvements have been made to the building during the time and she has seen sweeping changes all about the place. In the beginning the family operated one booth, this year they carried on three places with in a small radius.

Rain and wind late Monday raised havoc along mid-way. Lieut. Miller can make thrilling escapes from handcuffs and straight jackets, but could not wiggle away from calamity when his tent went flat. After the blow he straightened out the wreckage and after considerable trouble had the show in running order once more. Darkness came suddenly after the storm broke and the midway lights were turned on. This was at 4.30.

Three fiery serpents from a side show taken out for exercise attracted a large crowd but they kept a respectful distance. Each reptile measured about four feet long and their keeper explained the ferocious habits of the critters. They appear in public under a jaw breaking name, but in private life the camouflage is removed and they are simply Mr. and Mrs. New Jersey pine snake, without fangs and safe for children to handle.

Eating House Square

Every booth and dining hall about the time honored Eating House Square was occupied and carried on a rushing business at top notch prices. White sugar that rare and priceless treasure, was served sparingly while the brown kind known to our grandparents figured conspicuously behind the scenes.

Elmer and Leon Twitchell carried on the hall used until last year by the South Paris Congregational society. Excellent food was served and refreshments with fruits could be produced from the lunch counter.

John Boyanton of Auburn carried on business in the building formerly occupied by the South Paris Methodist Circle. He is an old time Hotel man and has a knowledge of the wants usually carried about in a large crowd of hungry mortals.

The Ladies Circle of the Norway Congregational church occupied their building as in the past thirty-eight years. Patriotic decorations were conspicuous and the dinning hall proved an attractive place to several hundred.

Mrs. Elmer Twitchell and Ai O. Twitchell conducted the original Twitchell booth, known to county fair patrons more than thirty years. In the beginning oyster stews were featured, but as time passed the proprietors added pastry, meats and other good things to the menu. To-day the stew is secondary and a regular dinner is served. Melissa Twitchell assisted on the tables and in preparing the large amount of food served.

The Ladies Social Union of the South Paris Universalist church carried on business as usual in their neatly arranged hall.

The Lovejoy Eating House, an old reliable institution opened early and closed late. This place has been conducted by the Lovejoys many years and they had catered to a good line of regular boarders during the week. Their transient business was at a high mark. An addition to their building this year added more room for efficient service.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Farrar of South Paris played their first engagement in the square this year. They occupied the building recently moved into the grounds from the Dr. Prudent Bedard estate and made good dispensing soft drinks and lunches.

Hotel Dewey, another old line eating house was carried on as usual by W. Twitchell with an able corps of assistants. Regular meals and branches were featured every day.

Outside the regular food zone there were tents and booths galore catering to the multitude. Frankforts, home cooking, bakery food, fruits, pop corn and ice cream were the staple goods passed over at prices extravagant in comparison to the good old days of yore. Strickly speaking soft drinks are not a food, but they were sold in conjunction with the staff of life. A fine spring near by and city water on tap was no opposition to the soft liquid business and every vender was driven to the limit supplying the thirsty.

A. W. Walker's Exhibit

A large farm exhibit under canvas was that placed by A. W. Walker & Son of South Paris. They set up on the spot near the main gate occupied several years by the company.

Gasolene engines, plows, harrows, the Empire milking machine, and their system to protect buildings from lightning, with many agricultural implements carried in stock by the concern were in the large display.

Their new attachment to change a common auto into a practical truck attracted considerable attention. Many are in use locally and have shown their ability to handle heavy loads.

The tent was the headquarters for hundreds who investigated new models and improved machinery to lessen farm labor.

This exhibit was in charge of Percy Walker with several assistants.

Systematic saving is being demonstrated at the Thrift and War Saving booth in the hall. Mrs. Charles S. Akers of Norway, county chairman, assisted by Mrs. Agnes Penfold Morton, chairman for the town of Paris, presided over an attractive display of literature suggesting a safe and sane investment backed by the United States government.

A young sailor was demonstrating before a few land lubber friends on the midway the art of tying knots. He was making a hit until Benson of Oxford, a real Westerner, versed in bronco busting and roping, hopped in on the show. Benson had trumps which the young midshipman could not match and played all around the sailor with every hitch, bowline and twist known in the business. Mr. Benson came east not long since, having passed a varied career with Wild West shows, on cattle ranches and even played in the movies with William S. Hart ir several features. As a rapid and expert roper this westerner has few equals, having won large purses at every national contest in the country.

EAST WATERFORD

Mrs. Wilmer Millett Patten, who has been visiting with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Haskell has returned to her home.

Mrs. Helen Stevens visited at her brother's, G. M. Steven's, recently.

Mrs. Lillian Pride and daughter, Marjorie were in Norway, Wednesday.

Superintendent Arthur Tucker and family of Farmington, are stopping at their camp during the corn packing season. About 40 are employed in and about the shop.

George Clark is stopping at home and working in the corn shop. Lafe Waterhouse also Harry Morey are boarding with him and working in the shop.

Irving Morey is picking corn for L. E. McIntire.

Mr. and Mrs. Kneeland, who have spent several weeks at the old home, Meadow Brook farm, have returned to East Waterford and are working in the corn shop.

Cathlene McIntire of Norway visited her cousin, Mrs. R. E. Pinkham, recently.

Marjorie Pride will teach in Hartford again this year. She returned to her school, Sunday.

School began in this district Sept. 1. The school-room looks fine with its new steel ceiling and coat of paint.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Need Help to Pass the Crisis Safely—Proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Can be Relied Upon.

Urbana, Ill.—"During Change of Life, in addition to its annoying symptoms, I had an attack of grippe which lasted all winter and left me in a weakened condition. I felt at times that I would never be well again. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it did for women passing through the Change of Life, so I told my doctor I would try it. I soon began to gain in strength and the annoying symptoms disappeared and your Vegetable Compound has made me a well, strong woman so I do all my own housework. I cannot recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly to women passing through the Change of Life."—Mrs. FRANK HENSON, 1316 S. Orchade St., Urbana, Ill.

Women who suffer from nervousness, "heat flashes," backache, headaches and "the blues" should try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

BASEBALL

Tigers 10; New Gloucester 2

It was a case of "tigers eat up Injun" at Ward 8 Park, Saturday afternoon, when the Red Men from New Gloucester fell an easy victim to Lafrance and the tigers behind him.

The visitors were a happy lot and fought away even when the game went sailing far beyond their reach. Johnson, the regular twirler, is not with them but the second string pitchers held the tigers fairly well, considering wet ground and non-support.

A changed line-up on the Tigers worked to advantage. Foss went into left; Desco moved to the first sack from second and Jakie Klain from Fort Williams but one of the original pre-war tigers occupied second until the seventh, then warmed up in the box during the drizzle and wet conditions. He worked in an easy manner and appears to have all sorts of tricks in reserve. Numerous errors broke up any suggestion of a fast game, but slugging and misplays sent over many interesting things to keep the crowd good natured. Peaco, the New Gloucester "Charlie Chaplin" was a show in himself and made good with the side line at the expense of his team mate's misplays.

The Tigers ground out their first three scores in the third session. It opened with Abe's double into center, followed by Palmer's single and Jake's hot infield drive. Wild throws and some confusion allowed Abe, Desco and Lafrance to slide across the plate. Six easy runs were found in the fourth with four singles and numerous errors closely united in a general merry chase. The last score was gained in the fifth by Desco who landed safely on a bunt, went second on a wild throw and sent around by Palmer and Lafrance.

The visitors failed to land on the third sack until the fourth inning, but nothing definite materialized until the eighth. Foss dropping Woodbury's fly, Scotty's little mix-up and Smith being tardy on fielding Peaco's fly sent over the first tally. A pass, Jake's wide heave to second, a stolen base and other troubles gave Segars in the honor of bringing in the last item for the visitors. The score:

West Paris 7; Norway 2

A seventh inning rally gave West Paris five runs and the same against Norway at West Paris, Saturday. The Norway team put its first run over in the first inning. With one pitch, Packard threw out Shepard. H. Rowe then hit safely past third base and Trafton scored. Rowe was out a minute later, however, at second. Norway's last run came in the fifth. Dunham was hit by a pitched ball. On Purington's out he went to second and scored on Haskell's hit. In the last half of this inning, H. Perham smashed a two base hit into the river and Hunt sent him across the plate with a mighty clout onto the rocks in the deep right field. The following frame saw things tied up. Haskell mussed up Emery's grounder; Hill and Doughty followed with singles and Emery scored. Then came the blow-off. H. Perham drove out another long wallop Hunt was out on an infield fly. Billings singled and Packard followed suit, filling the bases. Emery again grounded to Haskell and the Norway third baseman again spilled the beans. One run was over. Hill lifted a long fly that Dunham and Trafton both gave chase to and as the two fielders came together, Trafton dropped the ball. N. Rowe fanned, but Bacon threw Doughty's grounder almost to the railroad track, allowing Emery and Hill to score the last runs of the game. A steady rain fell throughout the whole nine innings showing up the play and making the pitcher's task one not to be particularly desired. Nevertheless, Hunt held the Norway outfit to four hits, but Bacon's old team mates collected thirteen off him. In his last four games for West Paris, Hunt has allowed but eleven hits, an average of less than three to a game. The score:

POINT SEVEN! Ladies, we have in stock several pairs of black and brown shoes, and owing to the tremendous increased cost of manufacturing, averaging in many cases 50 per cent., it is perhaps needless for us to say that it will be impossible for us to replace this line of footwear at the price we are selling them for. Call and look them over and without doubt you will see at a glance that it is a chance to save on your next pair of shoes.
While attending the Oxford County Fair don't fail to give us a call as usual, we are always pleased to see you and will be pleased to show you whether you buy or not.

Build Now
The general opinion of those qualified to judge is that all building material will be higher instead of lower, and we believe this ourselves. At this time we have a complete stock of all kinds of building material; but most impossible to get shipments from the mills and in our opinion the situation in this respect will not improve, so we say BUILD NOW.

BASEBALL

Tigers 10; New Gloucester 2

It was a case of "tigers eat up Injun" at Ward 8 Park, Saturday afternoon, when the Red Men from New Gloucester fell an easy victim to Lafrance and the tigers behind him.

The visitors were a happy lot and fought away even when the game went sailing far beyond their reach. Johnson, the regular twirler, is not with them but the second string pitchers held the tigers fairly well, considering wet ground and non-support.

A changed line-up on the Tigers worked to advantage. Foss went into left; Desco moved to the first sack from second and Jakie Klain from Fort Williams but one of the original pre-war tigers occupied second until the seventh, then warmed up in the box during the drizzle and wet conditions. He worked in an easy manner and appears to have all sorts of tricks in reserve. Numerous errors broke up any suggestion of a fast game, but slugging and misplays sent over many interesting things to keep the crowd good natured. Peaco, the New Gloucester "Charlie Chaplin" was a show in himself and made good with the side line at the expense of his team mate's misplays.

The Tigers ground out their first three scores in the third session. It opened with Abe's double into center, followed by Palmer's single and Jake's hot infield drive. Wild throws and some confusion allowed Abe, Desco and Lafrance to slide across the plate. Six easy runs were found in the fourth with four singles and numerous errors closely united in a general merry chase. The last score was gained in the fifth by Desco who landed safely on a bunt, went second on a wild throw and sent around by Palmer and Lafrance.

The visitors failed to land on the third sack until the fourth inning, but nothing definite materialized until the eighth. Foss dropping Woodbury's fly, Scotty's little mix-up and Smith being tardy on fielding Peaco's fly sent over the first tally. A pass, Jake's wide heave to second, a stolen base and other troubles gave Segars in the honor of bringing in the last item for the visitors. The score:

West Paris 7; Norway 2

A seventh inning rally gave West Paris five runs and the same against Norway at West Paris, Saturday. The Norway team put its first run over in the first inning. With one pitch, Packard threw out Shepard. H. Rowe then hit safely past third base and Trafton scored. Rowe was out a minute later, however, at second. Norway's last run came in the fifth. Dunham was hit by a pitched ball. On Purington's out he went to second and scored on Haskell's hit. In the last half of this inning, H. Perham smashed a two base hit into the river and Hunt sent him across the plate with a mighty clout onto the rocks in the deep right field. The following frame saw things tied up. Haskell mussed up Emery's grounder. Hill and Doughty followed with singles and Emery scored. Then came the blow-off. H. Perham drove out another long wallop Hunt was out on an infield fly. Billings singled and Packard followed suit, filling the bases. Emery again grounded to Haskell and the Norway third baseman again spilled the beans. One run was over. Hill lifted a long fly that Dunham and Trafton both gave chase to and as the two fielders came together, Trafton dropped the ball. N. Rowe fanned, but Bacon threw Doughty's grounder almost to the railroad track, allowing Emery and Hill to score the last runs of the game. A steady rain fell throughout the whole nine innings showing up the play and making the pitcher's task one not to be particularly desired. Nevertheless, Hunt held the Norway outfit to four hits, but Bacon's old team mates collected thirteen off him. In his last four games for West Paris, Hunt has allowed but eleven hits, an average of less than three to a game. The score:

POINT SEVEN! Ladies, we have in stock several pairs of black and brown shoes, and owing to the tremendous increased cost of manufacturing, averaging in many cases 50 per cent., it is perhaps needless for us to say that it will be impossible for us to replace this line of footwear at the price we are selling them for. Call and look them over and without doubt you will see at a glance that it is a chance to save on your next pair of shoes.
While attending the Oxford County Fair don't fail to give us a call as usual, we are always pleased to see you and will be pleased to show you whether you buy or not.

PRIZE OFFER

WHAT IS MUSIC?

Fred Sanborn has always told me I did not know how to write an ad, so I am not going to try, but am going to give a prize instead.

I will venture to say that over 100 of my gracious patrons have entered my shop, glanced at the restful oil paintings and steel engraving, read a few of the motto cards in the show cases, settled themselves comfortably in the big green porch chair, heard one or two records and then made a remark something like this:—"I just love music, I don't believe anybody in the world loves music as much as I do." Now these same people will buy music all the way from "Cy's been drinkin' cider" to "The Holy City," and from "Hail! Hail! the Gang's All Here" to "Shepherd Show Me How to Go" and everyone of these things are what each calls music and pays his good money for—Which one is right? Can all be right or are all wrong?

I used to think I knew something about music. Just last spring one of my young friends about to graduate from high school came for me to give some suggestions about her essay on music. I gave her the advantage of my knowledge and looked up a lot of references for her, but horrors! when she showed the product to her teacher it wouldn't do at all—"Music originated in China and was written in a circle." Big jolt. So you see I am more willing to learn what music is. So I am going to offer a prize of a solid gold 14 karat ring with a Maine gem in it worth at least $10, (let Bob Bickford, the Maine gem king, be the judge of value) for the best letter of about 100 words, telling what real music is. I shall judge and claim the right to publish the prize letter. Of course this won't agree with anybody else's idea—maybe I shall give two rings or three. The contest is open to anybody—all ages, one to infinity; all races, Yankee, Hindu, Mongolian or Hottentot, whether your country is signatory to the League of Nations or not. Christmas is the time limit to allow for letters from China.

I will give a few hints—What seems to be music to one does not to another. For instance, I remember when my sister used to live upstairs in the house where the editor of this paper lived. Fred told her that if she wouldn't play and sing when he was in the house that he would give her all the music he could lay his hands on. I don't believe there was anything personal to this. To Fred the sound of the printing press, the purr of a Hudson motor engine and the whizz of a fish reel are music. Others like a piano and singing. Sometimes they don't want to hear this, what pleases them at one time does not at another. As musical instruments Daniel mentions the "cornet, flute, harp, sacbut, psaltery, dulcimer and all kinds of musick," but he says nothing about the piano, saxaphone, banjo, guitar, mandolin, Victrola, or Grafonola. To various persons various sounds are considered music. For example:—The wind in the pine trees, the lapping of the waves on the sand, the mowing machine in the wheat field, (whether it yields two or 200 bushels to the acre), the tinkle of a mountain stream, the patter of rain on an open roof, the rustle of beech leaves in the winter, the chug of a steam engine, the sound of a water fall, the click-clack of the train on the rails, the rattle of the cicada, the whir of the humming bird, the buzz of the bee, the purr of a cat, the creak of a whiffle tree, the sound of the ax in the woods, the sound which tea makes when drunk from a saucer. To me after working a hand pump 'au fatigue' a wind mill has made music. Just last week a friend on entering my store and noticing the flies on the outside of the door awaiting admittance remarked that a much earlier occupant of the store said: (Mrs. Goodenow, who kept a millinery store here) "not to kill the flies for she liked the sound of their wings." There are so-called singing beaches at different parts of the world's sea coasts. There is the singing flame and in Job it tells about "when the morning stars sang together. So you see opinions differ and I have only touched a few of the opinions of what music is. Now WHAT IS MUSIC? Send in your 100 word answer and get a prize. This letter should be original, not based on dictionary on encyclopedia and evolved from your inner consciousness. The reason I give a good ring with a Maine gem is that there will be no dispute what that is, while there might be a difference of opinion about anything musical. Maybe the next prize will be music to decide what a gem is.

DELAYED BARN DOOR SKETCHES

Meredith Center, N. H.

I can't write and attend one-half of the social functions to which I've been invited. That's the reason for my silence. The selling of Economy Handles also interferes with writing. Over 2,000 have been sold.

A waterplane recently came to the Weirs. It got there Monday and came from the southeast, frightening horses as well as people. It is the first of the kind seen here. The Osgood tribe were there Tuesday evening as well as several hundred others to witness its ascension and look the critter over. The bird however, refused to leave the water and all went away disgusted. Later on it got to flying and carried people at the moderate price of one dollar a minute. Nothing less than $15.00 was charged. Ninety odd were "taken up" during the week. Think of it! Over $1,350.00 paid for flying in the days of high cost of living, too!

Arthur A. Smith started his brooder—a chicken producing apparatus—April 2d and July 29th one of the pullets dropped an egg. Hence 117 days from the egg to producing eggs. It was of the Rhode Island Red specie and is about two weeks quicker in maturing than last year. Wonder what Charlie Cummings and Mrs. Leavitt would say to that?

W. K. Kimball: "I paid $2.00 to get a tire re-set on that cart-wheel last week. Never used to pay over 75 cents or a dollar at the most. Prices are climbing."

Mr. Kimball is selling eggs for 70 cents when five years ago I paid him 30 cents per dozen.

Enoch Ware picks berries and sells them at the Weirs and in the city. He averages from $4 to $7 per day. One day with the aid of his twelve year old son he got $11.00 for the blueberries picked. He owns an auto, a good home and a portable saw-mill.

For the third time in my memory the schoolhouse is undergoing repairs. It is an inside revamping. Changing of seats and windows in accord to legislative enactments. Richard Daniels is doing the work supervised by the District Superintendent of Education who rides up to the house in an auto and tells what must be done.

The old seats were too small and low down and the light came in on the wrong side and wasn't in the proportion of 1 to 5 as is now required, hence the changes. The superintendent is a young chap who explains the law and points the way. Richard and Morris do the work.

For one term fifty odd years ago there was no blackboard in the schoolhouse. No globes, maps or charts, not even a dictionary during the years of my attendance. All the benches were occupied and not a child wore glasses or had appendicitis. All drank water from the same dipper from a pail on a shelf in the corner. Microbes were unknown; whooping cough, chicken pox, measles and scarlet fever were considered unavoidable and something as necessary to have before leaving home as was learning got from books. The itch and lice, sulphur and molasses and the Rule of Three blended together.

The boys took turns in building fires as did the girls in sweeping and keeping the school room tidy. The scholars owned their books as did those who "ciphered" own slates and slate pencils. Independence, ownership and rivalry prevailed among the children. Does it now? Not a bit. The art of getting something for nothing is now instilled into the child from the cradle up. The schools as now conducted are breaking down family control and are turning out a set of—— I'll not say, call it what you please.

I'd like to know the percentage of death among the children of this district between 1860 and 1870. I can recall only three but there must have been more. In the last ten years I know of two who have died and the attendance is not one-fourth as large as fifty years ago. I am to guess the percentage of deaths is now larger than in the earlier period. I wish there was some way of accurately knowing.

Of course it is unnecessary to say that in my opinion the children attending this school now are not half as large and robust as they were fifty years ago, neither are they so well trained or fitted to become good citizens in after life.

Shiftlessness and dependency and a dislike for work in field or shop is pretty generally taught in the rural schools in New England and for that matter in all our public schools. We need more hewers of wood and luggers of water than penswipers and normal teachers: boys and girls who are willing to work and have not been educated into the belief that honest toil is degrading. That is what was taught 50 years ago in the schoolhouse I am writing about. Read, write and cipher and then go to work. It was enough and all the education the public should be called upon to provide is my way of thinking. I know it is not popular and I shall be called bad names, but I honestly believe in what I am saying and there are others who think as I do.

Recently I asked a likely looking young lad of maybe 15 to go into business with me. We'd become partners and share profits. He listened attentively and seemed interested, but made answer that school was soon to commence and then he could not work, not even nights and mornings. He was tending a soda fountain and was gentlemanly and polite. The laws are such that he cannot work while going to school without a written permission from the supervisor of schools in his district. This he said he did not want to get because he "would be looked down upon by his associates as belonging to the laboring class." That is a fair illustration of compulsory grade education of the present day.

We tax ourselves to educate the youth of both sexes that useful employment is degrading. How long we can survive and call ourselves an Industrial American Nation with this false education is unknown to me.

I met a young Hebrew with a dirty shirt, soiled hands and nasty fingers who entered into partnership with me at once. He didn't care what the school laws were. He was out for business and ready to make money and help along the family. Hebrew education requires the children to bring home their earnings and to assist in supporting the family.

The chances are that a few years hence the Hebrew boy will be a man of means and business and a contented citizen and the educated Soda Hop a disturbing soap box orator on Boston Common.

Who knows? Who is to blame? What is the remedy?

I saw something at the summer home of Miss Sarah Louise Arnold, the dean of Simmons College in Meredith that pleased me greatly. It was some young girls sensibly dressed, working in the kitchen and in the garden. They were usefully employed and seemed happy and contented. I showed them how to make use of old tin cans and wasn't insulted by any one of them, even though Miss Arnold was absent. She was lecturing at the State Agricultural College at Durham that day.

The first brook trout I saw caught came out of Cassie Brook, a mile east of my home. This was 56 years ago. Father did the catching and I carried "the string" on which the fish were put after catching. The string was a crotched withe. I wanted to fish but was told I was not old enough and would scare the trout. In one place back of an old dam fourteen big trout were taken. Father crawled up to it through the reeds and while laying on his back, head to the brook, would drop in the hook and yank out a fish which I would take off and rebait the hook. He continually cautioned me not to rise up or make a noise. The hole might have been 12 ft. across and the water was shallow running back under the apron where the trout were. This was repeated until the fish stopped biting.

Many times I have thought of this in the intervening years and have planned to visit this brook and see if I could locate the place. Tuesday, July 29, 1919, in company with Wm. H. Larkin, 38 Boulevard Terrace, Alston, Mass., I went to the brook. He had never caught a trout in the 39 years of his earthly existence. He had sold shoes in the South and West and could talk the Spanish language and had seen bull fights in old Mexico, but had never yanked a speckled beauty from the water. This was his first opportunity and I saw him get one, yes two, but he saved only one, the other was poorly hooked and fell back into the water.

The brook badly lacks water and its banks are overgrown with alders and climbing hemlock. There was no running water in it. Only spring holes and stagnant pools. I saw several trout, perhaps a half dozen.

I located the old dam by the embankment and rock wings on either side, but the pool and rank reeds of fifty odd years ago were not there. A few logs that might have been the remains of the apron are visible as was a barrel or two of stagnant water and that was all. The mill pond had grown up to raspberry and blackberry bushes.

This is the story of the first and last trout (August 1, 1919) I have seen caught I have never taken one from Cassie Brook, over beyond Honey Bee Robinson's, on the Weirs road, in Laconia, N. H., though I've been there twice and seen fish caught both times.

MAINE'S STATE SONG

In recognition of Maine's approaching hundredth anniversary as a State, the Underwood Music Company of Portland has issued a Centennial edition of State Musical Directors, George Thornton Edwards' state song, "State of Maine, My State of Maine" which has been officially adopted as the society song by Maine clubs in nearly every state in the Union; has been endorsed by hundreds of prominent people including ex-governors of the state; and recommended for "Libe al Use" in the granges by secretaries of the Patrons of Husbandry. It is, as someone has said, "a song of praise to the grand old State of Maine and to its good name; a song of Brotherhood to those who have gone out to live in other states, and to the achievements of the sons of Maine, and lastly a song of welcome to the stranger within its gates." The composer has struck a note which will appeal to the pride and patriotism of all Maine people wherever they may be. Thousands of people in Maine have learned this song during the past year while singing with the Liberty Choruses.

PORTER

Hanson Libby Chapman

Hanson Libby Chapman passed away at his home, August 25 after a long illness. Mr. Chapman was the son of Abraham and Susan (Mason) Chapman and was born on the Abram farm now owned by Orion Black on July 15, 1833.

About 16 years ago Mr. Chapman lost the sight of one of his eyes and last December he lost the sight of the other, leaving him practically blind. As he couldn't get around very well his health gradually failed until the 25th day of May he had to take his bed. On account of his age the doctors could give him but little help and little by little he grew weaker and weaker until the last, always patient and thoughtful for the comfort of others.

Mr. Chapman leaves three sisters, Susan Chapman, Mrs. Olive Stacy and Mrs. Mary Page and eleven children, Mrs. Laura Tucker and Everett H. Chapman of Lynn, Mass., Geo. Ed. Chapman, Woodfords, Mrs. John C. F. Ridlon, Oliver S., Charles R., Herbert D., Mrs. Nellie Warren, Moses J., John A. and Cutis F. Chapman of Porter.

Funeral services were held at his home, Thursday afternoon, Aug. 28, conducted by Rev. Mr. Gray of Cornish. Mrs. Elwood Elliott sang two selections, "Nearer, My God To Thee," and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." The floral tributes were many and beautiful. The body was buried in the Riverside cemetery at Kezar Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Chapman and two children motored to Lynn, Mass., Saturday, Aug. 30, taking Mrs. Laura Tucker and Mrs. Ada Tucker with them. Mr. and Mrs. Chapman stopped with her parents until Monday, when they returned home, bringing Mrs. Chapman's brother Albert Miller and chum, George Hammer for a week's visit.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Miller of South Peabody, Mass., are stopping with his sister, Mrs. Curtis Chapman for a month's visit to recuperate.

A TRUE LETTER

East Boston, Mass. The following letter may bring advice to other sufferers:

"Dr. J. F. True & Co.: Having heard that your medicine, Dr. True's Elixir, had been on the market for years and years, I thought possibly my ailments would be helped if I tried it. I have spent many dollars in trying to get a Laxative which would agree with me—be pleasant to take and yet effective. At last I have it—Dr. True's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller.

For years I have had a poor appetite—any rich foods disagreed with me, and my headaches were frightful. I was troubled with tired feelings, nervous depression, weakness, spots before my eyes, bad breath, sleeplessness, irritability, dizziness and many other signs of sickness.

I can now do a day's housework and not mind it, and your Dr. True's Elixir is always handy—I don't know of a better laxative—I give it to my children with wonderful results—it relieves them of worms."

MRS. HELEN WOODFORD,
23 Lamson St., E. Boston.

The prescription, DR. TRUE'S ELIXIR, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, has done wonders for sick people, men, women and children. AT ALL DEALERS.

Keep well

The best way to keep well is by proper diet, sufficient rest, enough exercise, and above all things by keeping the bowels regular. If you are unfortunate enough to be suffering from sick headaches, disordered liver, dyspepsia, or constipation, you can get quick relief by a change of diet, by reforming your habits of hasty eating, by regulating the amount of rest or exercise, and by depending on the True "L. F." Atwood's Medicine to relieve you of the other disturbing symptoms. You can insure your health against sickness at little expense by a systematic use of this old and reliable household remedy; if you do not need it now for yourself, doubtless some relative or friend would be benefited by timely use of the medicine and would be grateful to you for suggesting it. It has helped thousands and is a household remedy today in hundreds of homes. Large bottle, sixty doses for 50 cents at any dealer's. Sample free for the asking. "L. F." Medicine Co. Portland, Me.

KEZAR FALLS

Kneeland-Fogg

Among the many friends and relatives attending the nuptials of Marion B. Fogg and Dexter R. Kneeland, which were solemnized at Bonnyview Farm, Lewiston, Sept. 2nd, were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Garner and Florence R. Garner, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Garner and Ruth E. Garner, Mrs. W. M. Chellis and Allen Chellis and Mrs. W. O. Merrifield. There was a gathering of the clans from far and near and Bonnyview Farm festooned with vine and flower, made a fitting temple for the beautiful marriage ceremony of the Episcopal church. Both bride and groom are graduates of Bates college and blessed by many friends, won by their own intrinsic merit and pleasing personality. They enter on the great adventure with many good wishes for continued happiness and prosperity.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Garner are passing the week at Crocker Pond accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Garner and daughter of Attleboro, Mass.

Ground is being broken for the new high school building to be erected on the Porter side of the village.

Mrs. Joseph Crowther of Chelsea, Mass., who has been visiting friends in town, returned to her home the first of the week. Her daughter, Mary, will remain a few days longer.

Harold H. Jones of Peabody, Mass., is spending his vacation with friends here.

Mrs. Eliza French, who has been sick, is convalescing slowly.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Newcomb of Winthrop, Mass., are the guests of Mrs. Lucia Davis.

Found Eight Dead Cattle

Ray Garland recently found eight cattle dead in his pasture. It is supposed they had been struck by lightning, but there were no marks of any kind upon them.

BRYANT'S POND

Board of Trade Talk.

The question of the advisability of organizing a local board of trade has been agitated more or less for a considerable number of years and it is safe to say that probably a majority of the business men of the town believe in the idea and the only reason why this town has not had such an organization years ago is the fear that we could not work together, fear that the farmers are jealous of the traders, fear that the traders are jealous of each other and that after we were organized we would immediately proceed to cut each other's throats and the board of trade as a help to the town amount to worse than nothing. Of course this is only the pessimistic view which all of the citizens do not share by any means.

It is true that without co-operation on the part of its members, a board of trade cannot hope to succeed but is it not also true of many other organizations? Is it not true in fact of anything we undertake for the public welfare, whether it is getting up a centennial celebration or a drama and surely no one can truthfully say that we are behind other towns in making a success of whatever we really attempt to do. No one will deny that our traders and farmers and other citizens have their faults and failings but is it not also true of the traders and farmers in other towns. Surely we ought to at least be as fair minded toward our own citizens as we would to the citizens of other towns.

Some say, "I cannot put any time into a board of trade, I have all I can do to look after my own business affairs." Yet it is true that in the most enterprising towns of Maine, the busiest business man will be found putting in time for board of trade work because he considers it pays him to do so.

Others say, "What is the use of a board of trade here at Bryant Pond, we have no money here to build factories or get business, only large towns where there is money can support a board of trade. Let us think it over. Every town has its natural resources and possibilities and the resources of some are greater than others, but unless the people of any town work together to develop their resources that town will remain small and that is no doubt the best of reasons why as a rule, boards of trade are usually found in the larger towns.

A board of trade in the modern meaning of the word is an organization of the business men, farmers and all other interested citizens of a town for the purpose of advancing the interests of the town whether in a commercial industrial, agricultural or civic sense. A board of trade at Bryant Pond could try to secure the location of new industries here it could work for the advancement of the town as a trade center it could advertise the town, work for better schools and roads and in short, lend its aid to every worthy enterprise for the welfare of Woodstock. It would give us a standing among the most progressive towns of Maine for it would show that we believe in Woodstock and its future, just as the citizens, of Norway, Paris and other progressive towns believe in their respective communities. A board of trade besides the usual officers of an organization would have committees appointed to look after the different interests of the town, new industries, home trade, agriculture, transportation entertainment civic welfare are the usual standing committees of a board of trade with special committees as occasion demands. It seems to many of the younger citizens of the town that this year, 1919 is the right time to start such a movement for the upbuilding of old Woodstock. Our location is the very best and many are the bright young people who first looked upon these old hills and blue lake, who love the dear old town and its people, who would be glad to stay in the home community and work for its advancement were the opportunities open for them. Let us pull together and make the opportunities. The time is ripe for action. It is up to us.

WEST SUMNER

Lot Presented to Grange

Pleasant Pond Grange had its usual meeting Wednesday night, Sept. 3d, with worthy master, Virgil Barrett in the chair. The most important event fo the evening was the announcement that the Grange had been given a lot upon which to build a grange hall. The Rev. Lucian Robinson was the generous donor of the lot which is situated in West Sumner village and was ground which the grangers had been previously trying to purchase of him. The Grangers are also to have use of a library which Mr. Robinson wishes to be included in the hall.

During the meeting two officers were installed, Mrs. Amy Farrar as lecturer and Sydney Brown as secretary, also numerous committees were appointed.

It was voted to hold a fair upon Wednesday, Oct. 8, or if rainy, the first fair day. Also an official correspondent was appointed for the grange, same being Sydney Brown. It was also voted to accept a tug of war challenge from West Paris grange, eight men from Pleasant Pond Grange to meet eight men from the West Paris grange in a tug of war at the West Paris fair. Two applications of membership were entered.
